Last updated: 27 September 2026

1. About these Terms

These Terms & Conditions govern your use of <https://templatestudio.lt> and any purchase of digital products from TemplateStudio. By using the website, creating an account or placing an order, you agree to these Terms.

If you do not agree with these Terms, please do not use the website or purchase our products.

2. Our digital products

TemplateStudio sells digital products only. No physical goods are shipped unless a product page expressly states otherwise.

Products may include Elementor templates, WordPress layouts, website sections, CSS code collections, design resources, guides, downloadable files and other digital tools.

3. Product information and compatibility

Please review each product page carefully before purchasing. You are responsible for checking the listed software, plugin, hosting and technical requirements.

Some products may require third-party software or services such as WordPress, Elementor, Elementor Pro, WooCommerce, a compatible theme, hosting or other plugins. Third-party licences and subscriptions are not included unless the product page explicitly says otherwise.

4. Orders and payments

You must provide accurate and complete information during checkout. An order is accepted when payment has been successfully authorised and the order confirmation is issued.

Payments may be processed by third-party payment providers such as Stripe. TemplateStudio does not normally receive or store your complete payment card details.

We may cancel or refuse an order where payment fails, fraud is suspected, a clear pricing or technical error has occurred, or supplying the product would breach applicable law. If a paid order is cancelled before delivery, the relevant payment will be refunded.

5. Prices and taxes

Prices are shown in the currency displayed on the website. Applicable taxes, including VAT where required, will be included or calculated in accordance with the checkout information and applicable law.

Prices may change at any time, but a later price change will not affect a completed order.

6. Digital delivery

Digital products are normally made available immediately or shortly after successful payment through a download button, download link, customer account, confirmation email or another method stated on the product page.

If you have difficulty accessing your purchase, contact info@templatestudio.lt and include your order number and the email address used at checkout.

7. Right of withdrawal for digital content

If you are an EU/EEA consumer, distance contracts normally include a 14-day withdrawal period. Different rules apply to digital content supplied without a physical medium.

Where you expressly request immediate delivery of digital content and acknowledge that you lose the statutory right of withdrawal once performance begins, the right of withdrawal may end when the download, access or supply of the digital content starts, as permitted by applicable consumer law.

Where required, this consent and acknowledgement must be collected separately at checkout before immediate delivery begins. Your mandatory rights in relation to faulty or non-conforming digital content remain unaffected.

8. Licence

Unless a product page states a different licence, your purchase gives you a limited, non-exclusive and non-transferable right to use the purchased product for the permitted purpose. Copyright and ownership of the original TemplateStudio product remain with TemplateStudio.

- You may customise the product for your own project.
- You may use a product in a client project where the applicable product licence permits client use.
- You may change text, colours, images, typography and layouts for permitted projects.
- You may not resell, redistribute, sublicense, share or publicly upload the original or substantially similar source files.

- You may not claim authorship of the original TemplateStudio product or package it as your own downloadable product.
- You may not share private download links or make the files available through file-sharing services or template marketplaces.

9. Client projects

Where client use is permitted, you may customise the product as part of a completed website or implementation for an end client. Unless the relevant licence says otherwise, this does not give the client the right to redistribute, resell or repackage the reusable TemplateStudio source files.

10. Demo content and third-party assets

Preview images, photographs, icons, fonts or other third-party assets shown in demonstrations may not be included with the downloadable product. Any third-party asset that is included may be subject to its own licence terms.

You are responsible for ensuring that third-party assets used in your final project are appropriately licensed.

11. Product updates

We may improve, update, correct or discontinue products. Unless a product page specifically promises a defined update period, a purchase does not include lifetime updates or lifetime support.

12. Support

Standard product support may include help with accessing purchased files, identifying missing files, answering basic product questions and reporting defects.

Unless separately agreed, support does not include custom development, complete website installation, third-party plugin configuration, hosting support, custom design, SEO work or troubleshooting unrelated software.

13. Accounts and security

If customer accounts are available, you are responsible for keeping your login credentials secure. Contact us promptly if you believe your account has been accessed without permission.

We may suspend access where we reasonably believe an account is being used fraudulently or in violation of these Terms.

14. Website availability

We aim to keep the website available and secure but cannot guarantee uninterrupted service. Temporary downtime may occur because of maintenance, hosting issues, software updates, security incidents or circumstances outside our reasonable control.

15. Intellectual property

TemplateStudio retains all intellectual property rights in its original products, website content, branding, documentation, product previews, template structures, design elements and original code, except for third-party materials owned by their respective rights holders.

16. Limitation of liability

To the extent permitted by law, TemplateStudio is not responsible for indirect or consequential loss resulting from incorrect installation, unsupported software, third-party updates, hosting configuration, unauthorised modifications, data loss or use outside the stated product requirements.

Nothing in these Terms excludes or limits rights or liabilities that cannot legally be excluded, including mandatory consumer rights.

17. Backups

Before importing, installing or modifying a website using our products, you should create a current backup of your website, database and files. You remain responsible for maintaining appropriate backups.

18. Privacy and cookies

Personal data is handled in accordance with the TemplateStudio Privacy Policy. Cookies and similar technologies are described in our Cookie Policy or cookie consent interface, where applicable.

19. Changes to these Terms

We may update these Terms to reflect changes in law, products, services or business practices. The latest version will be published on TemplateStudio.lt and will apply from the stated effective date.

20. Governing law

These Terms are governed by the laws of the Republic of Lithuania and applicable European Union law. Consumers retain any mandatory protections that apply to them and cannot lawfully be excluded by contract.
